ST. CLOUD HOTEL PASSES TO NEW OWNERS; DINING ROOM TO OPEN ON DECEMBER FIRST

An announcement was made Tuesday afternoon that the St. Cloud hotel had passed into new hands and would immediately be put in a condition to handle the tourist trade for the winter.

The new owners are Orlando people and the organization is headed by R. D. Waring, who is known as one of the progressive business men in this part of the state and who has always been known as a builder and developer in points in which he became interested.

Immediate overhauling of the dining room and kitchen will enable the the dining room to be opened for its guests by December 1st.

A number of rooms are now ready for lodgers and the remainder of the house will be put into first class condition as soon as possible and it is intended to put entire new furniture on the first and second floors of the hotel.

The plumbing will be overhauled and the heating looked after so that when it is needed the house will be comfortable throughout. The painting and decorating will be looked after shortly and before Christmas it is planned to have the hotel in better condition than it has ever been since it was constructed.

No consideration was named in the transfer for publication but it is understood that the new owners have paid a handsome price for the hotel and that they are people who are thoroughly familiar with conditions here and who have great faith in the future growth of St. Cloud. Everyone knows that Orlando has been the fastest growing town in this part of the state for the last several years, and when any progressive business men of Orlando become interested in St. Cloud it is a pretty fair indication that the development of St. Cloud has attracted the attention of shrewd business men

Beginning last Monday the morning train over the Coast Line will arrive each day at 8:54 a. m., and will return from Narcoossee and depart for Kissimmee at 9:31 a. m. The afternoon train will arrive from Kissimmee at 3:24 p. m. and will depart for Kissimmee at 4:01.

This will be the first time in several years that the business of the railroad company has been handled on a schedule that would permit the employees to take advantage of the 8-hour day which has been in vogue in practically every other office in the state for many years.

This will give a better mail service to this city in the afternoon; and enable the postoffice employees to finish their day's work in schedule time.

TEN THOUSAND CLUB MEETING

A short session of the St. Cloud Ten Thousand Club was held last Monday evening at the city hall, in spite of the unfavorable weather and the following matters were taken up and disposed of:

POLISH YOUR GUN—BUY SOME AMMUNITION

Saturday is the first day of the open season in Florida and the wise hunter will have his gun thoroughly polished and a good supply of ammunition on hand by that day and will also have secured a hunting license giving him legal permit to chase the elusive deer and the lively quail from November 20 to March 1st.

Osceola county has long been known as a hunter's paradise, and deer, turkey and quail are reported in great numbers throughout the county.

Many hunting parties have been known to have been planned from the St. Cloud section, and others from every part of the county will be prepared to take to the woods on Saturday and, no doubt, by the next issue of the Tribune we will have some real hunting stories to tell.

Don't forget your county license and beware of lands that are posted if you would keep yourself out of jail.

The Salvation Army officers have agreed to set aside 25c each week, for a month or more, for the purchase of seals. Can we not do as well?

Messrs. M. R. Metzgar and F. M. Bauser called upon the club, the latter petitioning the women to use their influence to have the remaining sidewalks placed over the R. R. crossing. Upon motion the president appointed a committee to communicate with the railroad superintendent in regard to the matter.

A library reception will be held on Dec. 1st, at 2:30 p. m., at the library, to which every citizen is invited. The guests of honor will act as a reception committee.

OBSERVATIONS

By MOSES FOLSON.

November is the month of meteors. During this month the earth in its circuit around the sun seems to be in a region of space where there are more of these floating particles than elsewhere. Meteors are probably the remains of broken up comets. They enter the atmosphere at the speed of 40 or more miles a second and are burned to dust before reaching the earth. It is said that the blue color of the sky is due to meteoric dust, otherwise the sky would be black. It is estimated that millions of meteors enter the atmosphere every day, and tons of dust reach the earth during the day and night. They are called "shooting stars," or "falling stars," but they are not stars, instead hard stone. Occasionally a big one strikes the ground. There is one in the Museum of Natural History, in Central Park, N. Y., weighing nearly 100 tons. There is no month without meteoric flights. The November showers are known as "Leonids," as they radiate from the Leonid star group. The shower on November 12 and 13, 1833, was the most wonderful in history, and created great alarm at that time, and many persons thought the world had come to an end. Everywhere you will find men, and women, too, hurrying hither, thither and yon, as though life depended upon speed alone. Children, too, under legal age, drive cars along the busy city streets every day. All the satisfying pictures of roadside beauty become a mere blur as these cars dash at breakneck rate over the road; rushing into everything at high gear may be spectacular, but it is seldom sane. Speed enthuses, excites and intoxicates, responsibility is forgotten and judgment given to the winds. The spirit of road ownership takes possession of the reckless driver. When the speed mania, without provocation or excuse, kills somebody, he is usually let off with a nominal fine or escapes entirely. It is time to mete out proper punishment to death dealing speeders. Last year in the United States an average of one person was killed every 35 minutes by automobile accidents, not to speak of the injured.

Religion, if it is worth anything, is worth applying in a large way. To get followers it must have a punch that makes interest by its very ability to do things. Billy Sunday has the punch. He has mass and not mere class consciousness. There are not kindergarten tactics with ice cream on the side, in his methods. Soft cushioned seats, academic sermons and half-hearted effort must be superseded by extensive and intensive practical evangelism, in which each individual must do his part, if the world is to be saved. The world ought to know the cost of the sentiment that the pulpit and church activities should keep their fingers out of the every day activities of business and social life. Religion is not mere denominationalism—that spirit has al-

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

ready cost the church too much money, standing and influence, and united effort is necessary to save the situation. Herbert Felkel says: "Being happy today with what you have is infinitely better and surer than waiting to be happy next year with what you hope to get."

We hear a good deal in these days about leagues of one kind or other. One worth while was recently instigated by Rev. W. D. March, a New Englander, to encourage kindly speeches. He calls it the "League of the Kindly Tongue." Its motto is: "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips." Its purpose is: "To abstain from unkind speech, and as often as possible to speak in the spirit of Christ, to stranger or friend, or kin, words of cheer, courage or counsel."

"If you are tempted to reveal
A tale some one to you has told
About another, make it pass
Before you speak, three gates of gold."

Those narrow gates, first, "Is it true?" Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind Give truthful answer, and the next Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"

And if to reach your lips at last
It passes thru these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear,
What the result of speech may be.

Arthur Brisbane says every man past forty is "cracked glass." You handle a cracked glass carefully to make it last. Hard usage will break it. John F. Carroll exercise in the athletic club then died. He was exercising a cracked glass, his weakened constitution. His mother alive, is 92. She never went to an athletic club to see how much an old heart could stand in the way of rough usage. Brisbane thinks Theodore Roosevelt would be alive today and very likely president of the United States if he had not put himself in the hands of a trainer that, with the best of intentions, raced him up and down country roads in the hot sun and wearing heavy sweaters. That broke a cracked glass, and Roosevelt died, killed, as many have been trying to improve their health, by overdoing. Exercise is necessary, but it can be overdone. Pugilists and men with overdeveloped muscles usually die young.

MEXICO TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT TAMPA

(By Frank L. Huffaker)

Emphasizing the fact that the South Florida Fair has been developed into an institution of international interest, the Mexican National Exhibit, provided for at a cost of $5,000,000, and accompanied by Provisional President de la Huerta and other Mexican dignitaries, will be on display throughout the fair period, Feb. 3 to 12. The exhibit, which is now larger than that displayed at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, is expected to be accompanied by the Mexican national band of one hundred pieces and recognized as one of the finest musical organizations in the world.

As President-elect Warren G. Harding expects to spend the months of January and February at a Gulf coast resort, President W. G. Brorein of the Fair association, who served in the Ohio senate with Mr. Harding, has invited the president-elect to make Tampa his headquarters for the winter months. In case he accepts, and it is expected that he will do so, much will undoubtedly be done by him and President Huerta to restore friendly relations between the United States and Mexico.

Being assured that an attendance record of home seekers will be established at the fair, the people of Tampa have already begun arrangements to properly house them. The fair directors are devising plans to have them visit different points in South Florida with a view to locating.

County and individual producers in all sections are asking for additional space in which to display their products.

PE-RU-NA

For Coughs, Colds and Catarrh

Mr. E. W. Marshall, Brampton, Michigan, suffering from Systemic Catarrh involving Head, Nose, Throat and Stomach, claims a complete cure. His letter is convincing. "For the past two years I have been troubled with systemic catarrh. I used several boxes of Pe-ru-na tablets and they have effected a complete cure. I do not hesitate to recommend Pe-ru-na for all catarrhal conditions."

Mr. Marshall is just one of many thousands who have been benefited by Dr. Hartman's famous medicine in the past fifty years. It is by stimulating the digestion, enriching the blood and toning up the nerves that Pe-ru-na is able to exert such a soothing, healing influence upon the mucous membranes which line the body. And a wonderfully effective remedy to restore strength after a protracted sickness, the grip or Spanish influenza.

REDUCED RATES TO JACKSONVILLE FAIR

As customary, all transportation lines entering Jacksonville, through G. Z. Phillips, director of transportation, have announced reduced round trip rates for the annual Florida State Fair and Exposition, which will be held here November 18 to 27.

These rates, a fare and one-third for the round trip, are sufficiently low and attractive to please the most exacting prospective fair visitor, and are expected to be the incentive which will bring thousands of people to the big fall exposition, which, this year, assumes an importance for surpassing anything of previous years. The general admission to the fair grounds will be 50 cents.

In connection with the low rates it is announced tickets will be on sale from all Florida points to Jacksonville on Nov. 17, 19, 21, 23 and 25.

In addition, the same reduced rates will be in effect within a radius of 100 miles of Jacksonville on Nov. 18, 20, 22, 24, and 26. These tickets will be good on trains arriving in Jacksonville before noon on Nov. 27.

It is also expected that many visitors will come to the fair in automobiles, and for these patrons the free automobile camp site adjacent to the fair grounds is at their disposal. Many are expected to take advantage of this convenience. There will be no charge for this service.

Indications are that people outside of Jacksonville are preparing to come to the city by the thousands to visit the fair, and to take advantage of the opportunity to hear Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist, who is now preaching to capacity Jacksonville audiences. Billy will be an interested visitor to the fair, having accepted invitation of the management to be its guest during fair week.

HEAR BILLY SUNDAY ON VISIT TO THE FAIR

Many people from Florida, as well as neighboring states are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to kill two birds with one stone during their period of Nov. 18 to 27 by coming to Jacksonville to visit the state fair, which will be under way at that time, and to hear Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist, who is now filling a six weeks engagement in the city.

In this connection the fair association is calling attention to the automobile camp site, which has been established at the fair grounds, and which is at the disposal of those who will motor to Jacksonville for the fair.

The camp grounds have been supplied with water and lights, no charge is made for the use of the site. Those using the camp grounds, however, will of course, pay the usual fifty cents per admission to the fair grounds, and the exhibits.

The railroads are also offering special rates from all points in Florida, and neighboring states, for the state fair.

YOUR LIBERTY BOND

The United States government borrowed money from you to finance the war. You hold the government's promise to pay you back. This promise is called a Liberty bond of a Victory note. On this bond are stated the conditions under which the government borrowed the money from you.

For instance: If you hold a bond of the Third Liberty Loan, it states that on April 15 and October 15 of each year, until maturity, you will receive interest on the amount you paid for the bond. Other issues bear other rates of interest and other maturity dates, all of which are clearly stated on the bond.

Now, if you keep your bond until the date when the government pays you in full for it, you do not need to worry if,

FOUR 'T'S ASSOCIATION

The Four T's Association met in the M. E. Annex Nov. 8, at 2:30 p. m. and opened by singing America and a prayer by the chaplain, Dr. Cooke, President Morsman in the chair.

All of the four states were well represented except Idaho, which is yet to be heard from. The new organization started out with a good spirit that speaks well for a congenial winter of fine, social fellowship. About forty were present. At our next meeting we hope to have our new banner. It was decided that each one have a badge with the name of the state on it, so we may all know which state we come from.

Our next meeting will be held in the M. E. Annex on Dec. 13, the second Monday. A very cordial invitation is extended to every one who has ever lived in either of these states to join with us. Watch for the announcement of the picnic dinner in connection with our next meeting.

NOVEMBER CROP REPORT

Harvesting of the state's field crops has been practically completed with the exception of sweet potatoes and sugar cane.

Continued dry weather over most of the state has enabled farmers to make great headway in harvesting, but the same conditions have prevented the normal growth of such late crops as sweet potatoes and cane and are holding back fall operations, turning land, sowing oats and rye, planting truck crops, etc.

Corn

The state's production of corn for 1920 is the lowest for several years.

The planted acreage was seven per cent under last year and a higher percentage than usual of the land in corn was also growing other crops at the same time, peanuts, velvet beans, etc. Heavy rains early in the season interfered with cultivation and prevented perfect pollination, and the crop as a whole was further set back by dry weather in the late summer.

Yield per acre is estimated at 13.5 bushels, compared with 15 bushels last year and a four year average of approximately 15 bushels.

Quality of the crop is 83 per cent of normal compared with 87 per cent last year and a four year average of 87.5 per cent.

It is estimated that about 227,000 bushels from the 1919 crop was still on the farms on Nov. 1, something less than two per cent of that year's production.

Approximately 8,000 acres of corn was cut for silage this year, with an average yield of four tons to the acre.

Production estimates of corn for grain for Florida and the United States are as follows:

Florida

Acreage 1919, yield bushels, 15; production bushels, 12,600,000.

Acreage 1920, 781,000; yield bushels, 13.5; production, bushels, 10,540,000.

United States

Acreage 1919, 102,075,000; yield in bushels, 28.3; production in bushels, 2,917,450,000.

Acreage 1920, 103,648,000; yield in bushels, 30.9; production in bushels, 3,199,126,000.

Sweet Potatoes

Sweet potato harvesting is progressing rapidly.

Yields from early plantings were good but the late acreage, which is large, is showing the effects of too much dry weather.

The crop as a whole will show light yields with an unusually high percentage of medium size marketable stock.

Quality is slightly above last year, 90 per cent of normal.

It is estimated that 45 per cent of this year's crop was grown for market, about 1,700,000 bushels.

Last year 44 per cent, 1,800,000 bushels, were grown for market.

Production for Florida and the United States is estimated as follows:

Florida

Acreage 1919, 41,000; yield bushels, 100; production, bushels, 4,100,000.

Acreage 1920, 40,000; yield bushels, 95; production, bushels, 3,800,000.

United States

Acreage 1919, 1,029,000; yield, bushels, 100.7; production, bushels, 103,579,000.

Acreage 1920, 1,022,000; yield, bushels, 103.4; production, bushels, 105,670,000.

Tobacco

With approximately the same acreage as for last year, Florida tobacco growers have produced about sixteen per cent more tobacco.

Some excellent yields have been made with an average for the state of 1,100 pounds, compared with 950 lbs. last year and a four year average of about 1,000 pounds.

The quality of the crop is 96 per cent of normal compared with 91 per cent last year and a four year average of 94 per cent.

Production estimates for Florida and the United States are as follows:

Florida

Acreage 1919, 4,200; yields, 950 lbs.; production, 3,990,000 lbs.

Acreage 1920, 4,200; yield, 1,100 lbs.; production, 4,620,000 lbs.

United States

Acreage 1919, 1,901,200; yield, 730.8 pounds; production, 1,389,458,000 lbs.

Acreage 1920, 1,859,700; yield, 793.9 pounds; production, 1,476,444,000 lbs.

Peanuts

The Florida situation on peanuts harvested for grain can not be stated with certainty before the December report date.

The late runner peanut will furnish a bigger percentage of the total than usual and the disposition of this crop is uncertain yet.

Early acreage estimates are apparently good, but interplanted acreage was larger than usual and the percentage for grain and yields will need some revision.

The quality of nuts harvested is 92 per cent of normal compared with 90 per cent last year and a four year average of 91 per cent.

Production estimates, based on all data obtainable at this time, are as follows for Florida and the United States:

Florida

Acreage 1919, 120,000; yield, 27 bushels; production, 3,402,000 bushels.

Acreage 1920, 123,000; yield, 28 bushels; production, 3,444,000 bushels.

United States

Acreage 1919, 1,251,400; yield, 26.6 bushels; production, 33,263,000 bushels.

Acreage 1920, 1,221,400; yield, 29.6 bushels; production, 37,483,000 bushels.

Sorghum for Sirup

The acreage in Florida is small and has changed very little from last year.

The crop was grown under generally favorable conditions and shows an average yield of 142 gallons of sirup per acre.

Florida, for the past two years, has made the highest yield per acre of sorghum sirup of any state in the Union.

Production is estimated as follows for Florida and the United States:

Florida

Acreage 1919, 600; yield, 130 gallons; production, 78,000 gallons.

Acreage 1920, 600; yield, 142 gallons; production, 85,000 gallons.

United States

Acreage 1919, 386,200; yield, 86.3 gallons; production, 33,312,000 gallons.

Acreage 1920, 401,000; yield, 93.1 gallons; production, 37,402,000 gallons.

Present conditions do not justify any change from September preliminary estimates of production. Condition of oranges and grapefruit is off one point, being 90 per cent and 78 per cent compared with 91 per cent and 79 per cent a month ago.

The regular December estimates of production will be published next month, following which we expect to show, monthly, the percentage of the crop still on the trees at the end of each month throughout the season.

Other Items

Estimates on other crops for the United States are as follows:

Final Estimate, 1919:

Buckwheat yield, 20.6 bushels; production, 16,301,000.

Irish potatoes, yield $9.2; production $57,901,000.

Flaxseed, yield 5.3; production 8,919,000.

Grain sorghums, yield 25.8; production, 120,058,000.

AGAIN THE LEAGUE

While Senator Harding somewhat playfully referred to the decease of the League of Nations in the brief address which he delivered to his friends and neighbors who called on him at his home on the Thursday following the election, the shoe is on the other foot. The assembly of the League of Nations convenes on Monday in Switzerland. Representatives of the forty or more countries which have joined it will be there to participate in the deliberations and in any action which may be taken.

It sounds like the chatter of children in a make-believe world for anyone, least of all a president-elect, to talk about the decease of the League. It is a living, vital factor functioning in the life of the world. It may be that by a mere wave of the hand, our next president will put the League out of existence; he may crush it as one does the worm in his pathway. And he may not.

Somewhat to his surprise and that of all others who share his views, the nations which have combined in a league may manifest enough dignity, purpose and sense of right and justice to decline to scrap their organization to accommodate an American president, whose election was won by combining both the friends and foes of the league in his support.

This strange utterance of Senator Harding may be the last of that kind which we will hear of him. He is a man of affairs and knows how touchy other nations may be about their rights and sovereignty. That which was good enough to use as a campaign argument, he may hesitate to employ when dealing with the trained diplomats and rulers of sister nations.

It is reasonably certain that he will not even suggest a conference of nations unless he knows in advance that the suggestion will be favorably received, and it is much more than probable that when he sounds out the rulers of other nations, he may make the discovery that, while they would gladly welcome the United States into the present League of Nations, even with the Lodge or other reservations, they will not favorably consider abandoning all they have done to start over again in an endeavor to come to some agreement which may suit the republican president.

Those who read in this issue of the National Enquirer the account of the preparations being made for the meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations will be convinced that it is not a mere fiction, but an accomplished fact.

It would take a better sleight of hand performer than Senator Harding to cause the League of Nations to disappear and something to take its place by a mere wave of the hand.—National Enquirer.

In Jacksonville last week the largest and most pretentious shoe store in the city was forced to close its doors, and the stock is now being liquidated. Among those who knew, the Cole Shoe Company was considered to have the highest class of shoes as a whole of any establishment in Jacksonville. It had the best appointed store, employed the very best salesmen. The store was located on Main street, between Bay and Forsyth, where, as the Jacksonville Observer points out, more people pass in a day than on any other street in Jacksonville. Other shoe stores in the city prospered and enlarged, but at a time when it should have been at the very summit of prosperity, it is a firm was forced by its creditors to close its doors with a stock of shoes valued at many thousands of dollars. People marvelled at the lack of business, and there was little surprise expressed when it was announced that the firm would be forced to close its doors and liquidate in favor of creditors. The liquidation of the Cole Shoe Company did not advertise. They knew they had the goods, but the public didn't know it. This management placed its judgment opposed to advertising against that of all other business enterprises. The result was inevitable.—Palatka Nws.

ALL KINDS OF KNOCKERS

In the past the Herald has had considerable to say on the subject of the "knockers." But heretofore we have dealt with only that variety of knocker who generally is regarded as a "sorehead," who continually and openly, to stranger and neighbor, cries down his home town, its institutions and its people.

There are several varieties of knockers but there is very little difference in them so far as their evil influence goes.

You don't have to get out and openly knock Punta Gorda to injure it. There are dozens of ways you can discourage improvements and hold back the wheels of progress besides open hostility. For instance, if a public improvement is suggested and your opinion is asked just hint that you'd rather be hanged? pNoctaoishrdletaoicmfwyp not have anything to say. Or if you are asked to head a committee of the commercial club or other organization, or serve on one that is pushing some movement for the public good, refuse to serve and make the usual excuses. Or a meeting is called to discuss something in which the entire town is interested, just remain away, and use an excuse that you thought it was going to rain, or that it was too warm or too cold.

Any of these are sure ways of black-eyeing your home town and will tend to discourage those who are really trying to get ahead. It is not so much what you do to help the town along as what you refuse to do. Talking in a pessimistic manner of proposed improvements before you have given them enough thought to form an intelligent opinion is a certain way to throw a wet blanket over the proposition. Punta Gorda has several of this variety of knocker. And, whether you have any influence in the community or not, the fact that you appear disinterested is likely to have an ill effect upon the man who doesn't know you as well as those who have lived neighbor to you for years.

About the most contemptible variety of knocker is the fellow who attends a meeting, refuses to participate in the discussion, and then leaves to knock whatever was done by the rest. Get up and say something whenever an improvement is suggested or a movement is launched. If you have a better way say so. If you can improve on the proposition, say so. Say something. Do something. Don't help to kill your town, by holding back as though you were anxious for the movement to fall through so you can go out and repeat the universal pass word slogan of all varieties of the genus knocker, "I told you so!"

News Defined

A newspaper headline informs us that "more details of waste in War department buying and selling have been discovered. The facts are important and must be chronicled, but such revelations are rapidly losing the character of news. If we could learn of an incident of thrifty, economical buying or selling by the War department, that would be news.—N. Y. Herald.

SHARP SPIKES ON AUTO WHEEL ARE ANTI-SKID ATTACHMENT

A new anti-skid attachment for automobile wheels is intended for use on frozen and inclined surfaces and in soft mud. As clamped to the outside of each wheel, the attachment consists of two concentric rings of steel, the outer of a little more than the diameter of the wheel rim. NATIONAL COMMENT

WHAT KIND OF A PEACE DO THE PEOPLE WANT?

Was the League controversy a vital issue in the election?—what does the vote show as regards popular sentiment toward American participation?—Is the League dead so far as the United States is concerned? As reflected in the American press, public opinion on these three questions seems as uncertain now as it has been during the campaign. Probably the most vivid way to express the extent to which opinion is still divided is to state that of the papers reviewed twenty-five per cent declare either that the League was not an issue at all, or but remotely so. Twenty-five per cent firmly take the position that American nations as outlined at Versailles has been definitely settled adversely. Fifty per cent, apparently the majority opinion, express the belief that Harding's election is not a repudiation of the League idea, that the mass of voters who supported him favor "some sort" of an association of nations, and that American participation is assured, either in a new organization or in the present League after the covenant is modified to suit American conditions.

"It cannot be said," the New York Times (Ind. Dem.) believes, "that the contest was decided on the Treaty issue. It was anything, everything, but that." And the Chattanooga Times (Dem.) agrees that "not one voter in a thousand, perhaps, had the League of Nations in mind when he or she voted." The League, the Buffalo Express (Ind. Repub.) maintains, "was a minor issue." The Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ind. Dem.) agrees that the most cursory knowledge proves how many other issues, wholly unrelated to the league, influenced the result, while the Minneapolis Journal (Ind. Rep.) sees the "League of Nations issue as only a sign and symbol" of the "autocracy" which was repudiated by the election.

But "it is so far as the League was the issue," says the St. Louis Post Dispatch (Ind.) "the fight centered on the so-called Wilson League . . . and that stands condemned." This view is shared by several papers which have supported the League, among them the Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.) which says:

"How much of the voting was influenced by the League of Nations issues can only be conjectured, but so far as that issue was defined as one embodying the president's views the verdict must be candidly interpreted as condemnatory to the last degree."

The Wichita Falls (Texas) Record-News (Ind.) also "admits" that "the American people have commanded unmistakably that the League of Nations pact shall become another famous scrap of paper, in so far as they can make it so," which means to the Arkansas Democrat (Dem.) that "the League of Nations, splendid dream of democracy world-wide, must fall or achieve its ends without American participation."

In a different spirit, however, papers which have opposed the League covenant now see its final repudiation in the enormous republican majority. The answer given at the polls, the St. Joseph, (Mo.) News-Press (Ind.) believes, "so tremendously emphatic," means that "the people do not want the Wilson League." It is "dead and buried," the Cleveland News (Rep.) adds, "to the marked relief of millions of Americans." The New York American (Ind.) sees "no uncertainty as to the meaning of the result of the 'solemn referendum,'" which, the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.) agrees, means that "America's unconditional entry into the League of Nations is a dead issue. That was settled, and most effectively settled, at the election." "The verdict is final," asserts the New York Herald (Ind.), a verdict which the Washington Post (Ind.) says never was in doubt.

But it is not fair, the Detroit News (Ind.) thinks, "to accept this verdict as a wholesale rejection of the principle of the League of Nations. It is impossible to believe that the American people refuse to join with enlightened nations of the earth in a combined effort to banish war earth." Enemies of the League idea, says the Springfield (Mass.) Union (Rep.), "may claim that the verdict is against American participation in any international co-operation for peace," but the Minneapolis Tribune (Rep.) voices the conviction of many writers that the decision "does not mean that the co-operation of our country with other nations for the general welfare has been repudiated, or is not regarded as a duty and will not be undertaken in the proper way at the proper time."

Indeed, the Richmond Times-Dispatch (Dem.) is convinced that "the people approve the principles of the League of Nations, even if they have voted to reject the Wilson League," and in the opinion of the Chicago Post (Ind.), both "Governor Cox on the one hand and Senator Johnson on the other failed to convince them that Senator Harding's election meant the scrapping of the League." Millions of Republicans, the Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.) believes, voted for Harding "on the assurances to the Republicans and the Taffs that he would favor the League with satisfactory reservations and amendments." To this the Milwaukee Journal (Ind.) adds that "he could not have been elected without the votes of these millions and millions of men and women" who accepted in good faith the promise of other republican leaders to work for world peace.

"He is not face to face with that issue," the Knoxville Sentinel (Ind. Dem.) states. "He cannot evade a direct taking hold of the League in some way," since, as the Indianapolis News (Ind.) puts it, "the vote did not settle the fate of the Versailles treaty and the League covenant. These continue to be unfinished business." To the New York Evening Post (Ind.) "the great and solemn referendum has only entered upon another stage," because, as the New York World (Dem.) expresses it, "none of the elementary facts were changed by the ballots that were cast for Harding" and everything that ever existed "in favor of the ratification of the treaty exists today."

"Regardless of the outcome of the election," the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot (Ind. Dem.) declares, "America will enter the League. Her entrance is certain to be qualified by restrictive reservations, but she will go in because she can not afford to stay out."

LABOR EDITOR ASKS QUESTIONS—REAL ESTATE JOURNAL ANSWERS THEM.

The editor of the Miami Central News—official labor paper—asked us some blunt questions and requested replies. Well, we always try to accommodate—in fact that's our middle name.

Here are the questions:

"Would the removal of taxes from buildings used as homes stimulate the production of such buildings?"

We think it would.

"Would the placing of taxes upon unimproved property have a tendency to stimulate the transfer of such property to those who would improve it?"

If the rate of taxation were increased on unimproved real estate and correspondingly reduced on improved property, investment would naturally leave the former and go into the latter.

"What interest would suffer if such an adjustment of taxes were made?"

Land speculation would undoubtedly suffer.

"If your statement of the paramount need of the nation is correct, should not that need be met at any cost?"

No, the need should not be met at any cost, but should be remedied by due process of law, and change of law, the only way it can be successfully be met. This would involve a reclassification of property for taxing purposes, and changing the constitution of possibly every state in the Union, same as the Equal Suffrage, Prohibition, Income Tax, etc., have required.

Now to ask a question ourselves. Will you tell us why the forces of organized labor, and especially its leaders, do not apply their energies in the direction of non-partisan reforms like the above, instead of using the powers of organization merely to force arbitrary exactions from their employers regardless of whom it may harm or cause to possibly suffer?

In conclusion, we believe it might be really a better source to get the answers for the questions you ask from your own subscribers and see just how near they could get together on such a proposition as you ask. It would require much more thought than merely following orders of leaders regardless of results, a plan which seems to be the fashion just now.—Real Estate Journal, Miami.

GO TO LYNN HAVEN

Dade City, Fla., Nov. 13.

Attention Comrades

I am told that there is an effort being made to have the Relief Corps hold its department encampment at a more convenient place than Lynn Haven.

Don't do it.

A very small contribution from the comrades not able to go would pay the expenses of the necessary department officers of the Corps to meet at Lynn Haven and I will start the contribution at $1 for myself. Let us give our comrades at Lynn Haven a display of our loyalty to all comrades the world over by giving them as large attendance as possible.

Yours in F. C. and L.

Must scores of little orphan, homeless and helpless children, from tiny babies on up, be turned out into the streets in Florida, because the good people of Florida have wearied of well doing?

The Children's Home Society of Florida—"Florida's Greatest Charity"—a state-wide and undenominational work for homeless and needy children, with State Headquarters at 428 St. James Building, Jacksonville, Fla.—in spite of the Most Urgent appeals for financial aid during the past two months, has failed by several thousand dollars to secure enough funds to provide for more than a thousand little ones that have received the aid and care of the Society during the past ten months—and right now is in a very critical condition, for not a dollar can be borrowed, and unless more funds can be secured the great work must be discontinued. This would mean that scores of absolutely helpless little children, from tiny babies on up, would have to be turned out into the streets, for every other children's home and orphanage in the state is now crowded.

Hundreds of last year's contributors to this great work have not sent in their contributions as yet, and thousands of men, women and business firms all over Florida have never given a dollar to keep these little orphans from starvation and death.

Something must be done about this matter, and it must be done right now if this absolutely necessary work is to go on. What will you do about it, friend—today? Every dollar will help a whole pile. Please send it to R. V. Covington, Treasurer, 428 St. James Building, Jacksonville Today without fail.

And listen we are in desperate need of children's wearing apparel of every kind, size and shape, and will warmly welcome staple provisions, vegetables, fruits, canned goods, jellies, preserves, syrup or chickens, meats and a turkey or two for Thanksgiving. All such articles should be sent to 1944 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville.

And Listen again: Can't you get your Sunday School or Church, or Day School, or your Club or Lodge or Society, to take up a special offering for our little ones, and get up a box or barrel, or parcel post package of children's clothing, provisions, etc., for us? Won't you ask them to do it?

And don't forget, we have dozens of fine little homeless boys and girls just waiting eagerly for a good home for Thanksgiving or Christmas. Can't you and your wife take one or two?

Now don't be like the priest and the Levite and read this and pass it by but be a good Samaritan and do something for our little youngsters in distress and need, won't you?

Eagerly pleading for some aid from you today, we are your fellow workers, doing your job.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF FLORIDA.

428 St. James Bldg., Jacksonville, Fla.
Judge W. H. Baker, President.
R. V. Covington, Treasurer.
Marcus C. Fagg, State Superintendent.

N. B. Your own Thanksgiving Day will be much happier if you show your appreciation of your blessing, by doing something for the little ones who are absolutely depending on your aid and support.

height.

Y. M. C. A. since January, is the announcement made by the State Office of that organization. The National War Work Council appropriated three million dollars of the funds raised for educational work overseas, but which tion, for free scholarships to the men in high schools, academies or technical and grammar schools of less than collegiate rank, and $7,990.00 for correspondence courses.

Florida schools but were given to Florida men who are in schools scattered all over the south, north and east. To sire to improve themselves educationally, exceptionally strong correspondence courses are being given, cover-engineering, commerce, mathematics, mechanics, electricity, radio telegraphy,

giene and health, bookkeeping, accounting, salesmanship, advertising. One hundred and sixty different courses in these lines are listed in the Home Study catalogue of the Y. M. C. A., from which the ex-service men may make a selection.

Any soldier, sailor or marine who has an honorable discharge is eligible to apply for a free scholarship. Catalogues, application blanks and information are obtainable from the Florida State Y. M. C. A., Jacksonville.
Only a small balance of Florida's fund is unassigned, which indicates the appreciation of the soldiers for these opportunities.

The committee on scholarships for Osceola county is as follows: J. L.
Overstreet, C. E. Vowell, H. M. Katz of Kissimmee.

Card of Thanks

To the People of Osceola County:

I take this method of thanking each and every man and woman who voted for me in the general election, November 2, 1920.

I wish to say that the sun will never shine too hot or the night be too dark, or the lightning flash across the horizon too fast for me to return the favor if it is in my power to do so.

With my limited vocabulary I can not express the appreciation which I have for the ones who were loyal to their oaths which they took when they registered for the primary.

Sincerely yours,

Z. BASS.

There are lots of great men until you get close to them.

WATCH YOUR BLOOD CONDITION

If You Look Pale, Feel Gloomy and Run-downs, Take Pepto-Mangan and Build Up

You see men and women who are never sick. They work hard, look robust, eat heartily and enjoy life. They have plenty of rich, red blood. That is why they are never ill.

People who try to get along with weak, impoorished blood always have a struggle. They go from one sickness to another. Children the same way.

If you keep your blood rich and red you'll enjoy full vigor. Disease has little chance to develop in healthy blood. As soon as you feel run-down take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It will feed your blood with the ingredients needed to create a good supply of red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer.
They are alike in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—
"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.—Adv.

PAID FOR HIS PAPER AND THE COSTS

(Huntington, Pa., News)
The court of common pleas of Lawrence county recently decided a small case involving $5.40 in the interest of a newspaper published in that county. It appears from the evidence that a carrier delivered a paper for a year and several months to one Henry Seiber, who refused to pay for it because he hadn't ordered it. Seiber accepted the paper and the family read it. The court in instructing the jury said among other things that Seiber in not refusing the paper was party to an implied contract to pay for what he got on the same theory that if a merchant delivers grocery to the wrong house and the person who got the groceries and used them, was liable, or a man called to a day's work in a garden and gets in the wrong lot and works a day with the knowledge of the owner of the lot, the man receiving the benefit of that man's work was under obligations to pay for the labor, or the man who cleans another's payments while the owner looks on without ordering the workman to stop, there is an implied contract to pay for that man's service. The same principle of law holds good, said the judge, when you receive a paper through the mails. In accepting the paper there is an implied contract to pay for it.
The decision by the court in directing a verdict against the man who read the paper in favor of the publisher is not new, as the question has been decided by many of the lower courts and upheld by appellate courts of nearly every state in the Union.

THE SOLITUDE CURE

It's a wide, wide world, and when you can't do anything else, you can go away. Going away has preserved many a friendship, saved from shipwreck many a matrimonial venture, and prevented many a case of assault and battery, not to say murder.

I consider going away to be my favorite beverage. To use the language of patient medicine correspondents, I can say that I have tried it for years, am never without it handy, and can truly recommend it to my suffering brethren and sisters. The human soul is a "fiery particle," as Lord Byron says, in re Keats, and it needs room. It can't stand crowding. Scientists tell us (in one of those fairy stories that nowadays our credulity is fed on, in lieu of the miracle stories of the middle ages) that every atom, even in the solidest substance, as iron, is relatively and in proportion to its size, as far removed from its companion atoms as one star in our heavens is distant from another; so that in your thumb nail are microscopic galaxies, and each one of the separate atoms dwell possibly submicroscopic people with their problems of tariff and suffragettes. I mention this simply to show that nature intended everything, even atoms, to have elbow room.

The average human creature is gregarious. He craves family life, friendship, companionship in his work and fellowship in his hours of diversion. And my point is that said average man is prone to carry this too far and get a continual overdose of his fellow men. The secret of many of his troubles is too much folks. He leaves in the morning his household of relations, he rides to business in a trainful of passengers and probably converses all the way with an acquaintance, he works in an officeful of clerks, he lunches in a clubful of fellows, at night he amuses himself in a theatreful of spectators, and sips in a restaurantful of people. Not an hour does he get to himself, when he can fold his hands, "loaf, and invite his soul."

All this makes one ready, short, skilful in business, and quick in repartee, hurry of crowds and affairs. But the stronger and more substantial traits of human character, which grow only in the spacious areas of solitude, have no chance to develop. They are such soul growths as wonder, the appreciation of beauty, the love of nature, the knowledge of what is worth while, fortitude, humility and poise, and finally religious feeling. Not one of these things which make a man really and inwardly prepared against fate and strong against the reverses of destiny, will grow in the trampling and press and
